REPORT

Government Degree College Bijbehara took a proactive and engaged stance during Digital JK Week 2023, a significant event orchestrated by the Government of Jammu and Kashmir with the overarching theme of "Digital Empowerment of Citizens." In a collaborative effort involving the Department of Computer Applications, IQAC (Internal Quality Assurance Cell), and the Debates and Seminar Committee, NSS the college organized an impactful awareness session. The primary objective of this initiative was to enlighten students from diverse academic disciplines about the extensive array of government e-services while highlighting their accessibility and utility for the general public. The event commenced with an inspiring campus rally that showcased unity among students and faculty members. Simultaneously, strategically placed banners promoting government e-services adorned key locations within the college campus, immediately capturing the attention of all passersby and igniting curiosity and interest in the upcoming awareness session.

The heart of the awareness session was a compelling presentation delivered by Ashaq Hussain, the esteemed Head of the Department of Computer Applications. Drawing upon his profound knowledge and expertise in the field, Mr. Hussain adeptly communicated the practical applications and benefits of government e-services. His presentation aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical understanding and real-world implementation, rendering e-services tangible and pertinent to the daily lives of the attendees. As the presentation unfolded, participants embarked on a journey through the realm of government e-services, gaining insights into the diverse offerings of various government departments. Prominent among these were Service Plus, Janusugam Registration, and Mobile Dost, each of which was meticulously elucidated to emphasize how they could streamline processes, enhance access to government resources, and augment overall convenience. Armed with comprehensive knowledge of these valuable resources, attendees left the session empowered and fully prepared to integrate e-services into their daily lives.

The outcomes of this awareness session were both profound and multi-dimensional. Foremost, it succeeded in raising awareness among students about the availability and significance of these digital resources. The campus rally and the conspicuous display of government e-services banners effectively conveyed the importance of these services, evoking a sense of curiosity and intrigue among students. They departed the session with a deeper comprehension of how government e-services could significantly impact their lives, simplifying access to essential resources and services while streamlining administrative processes.

Additionally, the session equipped attendees with practical knowledge about the myriad applications of e-services provided by different government departments. This knowledge empowered them to harness these digital tools for personal gain and community benefit. Most notably, the session fostered a proactive mindset among students, encouraging them to take control of their digital interactions and seamlessly access government resources from the comfort of their homes.

The event's successful culmination was marked by a vote of thanks presented by Dr. Rashma Siraj, expressing gratitude to all participants and contributors who made the awareness session possible. The occasion was graced by the esteemed presence of Dr. Rafiya Nisar and Mr. Aijaz Ahmad, Chief Librarian of the college, whose support and guidance significantly enriched the event.
