

About the Journal: Chinar – The Multilingual College Magazine of GDC Bijbehara

Introduction

Chinar is the official multilingual college magazine of Government Degree College (GDC) Bijbehara, serving as a platform for students, faculty, and researchers to showcase their academic, literary, and creative works. The magazine aims to promote intellectual engagement by encouraging submissions in multiple languages, thereby reflecting the linguistic and cultural diversity of the institution.

Scope and Objectives

The primary objective of Chinar is to provide an avenue for scholarly discourse, literary expression, and artistic creativity. The magazine accepts a wide range of contributions, including research papers, essays, poetry, short stories, book reviews, and opinion pieces. The multilingual nature of Chinar allows submissions in English, Urdu, Kashmiri, and Hindi, among other languages, fostering inclusivity and cultural representation.

Call for Papers

Chinar invites submissions from students, faculty members, and external scholars on diverse themes related to literature, science, social issues, history, and contemporary debates. The submissions should be original, unpublished, and aligned with the magazine's editorial guidelines. Each contribution undergoes a review process to maintain quality and relevance. The upcoming issue of Chinar focuses on interdisciplinary perspectives, with special emphasis on:

- Literature and cultural studies
- Scientific advancements and innovations
- Social and political issues
- Historical narratives and case studies
- Creative writing and poetry

Submission Guidelines

1. Articles should be between 1,500–3,000 words.
2. Poems and short stories should not exceed 1,000 words.
3. All submissions should be formatted as per the ALA (American Library Association) style or MLA (Modern Language Association) style where applicable.
4. Citations and references should follow ALA style for library and information science papers.
5. Submissions should be sent in MS Word format to the editorial board at [email address].
6. The editorial team reserves the right to make minor edits for clarity and coherence.

Review and Publication Process

Submissions undergo a peer-review process by the editorial board, comprising faculty members and experts from various disciplines. Authors may be asked to revise their work based on feedback. Selected papers and articles will be published in the upcoming edition of Chinar, both in print and digital formats.

Conclusion As a prestigious academic and creative forum, Chinar continues to uphold its mission of fostering intellectual and artistic expression. By inviting contributions from diverse perspectives, the journal not only enhances scholarly engagement at GDC Bijbehara but also contributes to broader academic and literary discussions.
